
SUMMARY

Jonah Most leads creative teams to develop science and story-driven projects that are meaningful and engaging.

PROFESSIONAL EXPERIENCE

SENIOR PROJECT DIRECTOR, GLOBAL COLLABORATIONS

Exploratorium | 2020 - present

Lead a highly skilled team of 45+ project managers, designers, engineers, software developers, and writers to develop new science centers for the Exploratorium's global partners on projects with design/build scopes as large as $100M. Currently responsible for leading the development of a major new Science Center in East Asia.

<https://www.exploratorium.edu/people/jonah-most-global-collaborations-staff>

Additional work at Exploratorium:

- Worked with executive leadership on 10 year institutional revisioning effort
- Lead the development of 70+ exhibits for a science center in the Middle East
- Developed gallery examining the relationship between rocks, soils, and people for a partner museum in Arkansas
- Developed prototypes for the Exploratorium's social science gallery about why people fall in love

Featured Project—The Scientific Center of Kuwait

<https://www.jonahmost.com/tsck>

DIRECTOR OF EXHIBIT DEVELOPMENT

West Office Exhibition Design | 2015 - 2020

Responsible for exhibition development and project management for interactive science and history museum projects. Lead six major exhibition projects ($1-7 million production budgets each) and contributed to firm marketing and new business acquisition.

Featured Project: Unity Center, California Museum

Writer and lead exhibition developer for a gallery that celebrates California's diverse peoples and encourages visitors to exercise their rights and to stand up for others

jonahmost.com/unity-center

EXHIBIT DEVELOPER

Earprint Productions | 2014 - 2015

Managed exhibit media projects for clients including the MET Museum and the de Young

Featured Project: MET Body Language tour examining the body language of 20 sculptures jonahmost.com/body-language

REPORTER

New America Media | 2011 - 2014 (Freelance)

Wrote stories on topics that ranged from Supreme Court decisions to the food in pantries of low-income residents. Articles published in SF Bay Area and national outlets.

EDUCATION

BACHELOR OF ARTS

University of Michigan,

Anne Arbor, 2012

Graduated with High Distinction

GLOBAL STUDY

Worked, studied, volunteered & traveled in 33 countries

SKILLS

// PROFESSIONAL

- Team Leadership
- Exhibition & Media Development
- Budget Management
- Writing
- Design & Prototyping

// PERSONAL

- Honest
- Curious
- Self-motivated
- Detailed